

On your other project....I got some preliminary glass estimates. So in this case storefront is much cheaper, since there's no insulated glass etc and the butt glazed has to be tempered laminated since it's floor to ceiling.

The east side of ramp with storefront behind shelves....$9, 675

Butt glazed would run about $24,200.

The north side of the upper level: storefront would run about approximately $12,090

Butt glazed would be $26,850 (over double storefront).

These are rough number based on linear feet. Then you have to factor into number for design and bidding
